KEEP HEALTHY.

Simple Rules for Preventing Much Ill-Health.

FAR BETTER THAN MEDICINE.

The Importance of Breathing Pure Air Dwell Upon by a Medical Man.

Health—That department of medical science which treats of the preservation of health.—Webster.

The duty of the physician is to prevent disease as well as to cure it. An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure.

The Supreme Ruler of the universe has established a system of order—a code of laws by which he governs the world. His courts are incorruptible; His juries are unbiased; perjury is not tolerated; there; money has no influence before them; August Tribunal; His decisions are always just; His laws pertaining to yourself are plain and accessible all.

Ignorance of the law excuses no one. If you commit an outrage against yourself you will surely suffer the penalty. If you neglect implicitly the laws of nature regard to all your habits you cannot be otherwise than well—you can go through the seven stages from the cradle to the grave free from sickness, accidents excepted.

THE PRESERVATION OF HEALTH.

The majority of us—to day pay no attention to the preservation of our own health, and if, after having gone outside of nature's laws for months, we are taken sick with an attack of malarial fever we wonder why the Lord has seen fit to inflict us in this manner and banish our unluckiness generally, and the country particularly, when it is really all our own fault.

The country is all right. Our next door neighbor, who is systematic in all his ways, never gets sick. You say,

"Ugh! that man is afraid to eat a pear between his regular meals, he has to eat his meals at a certain time, day in and day out. He won't eat a piece of English plum pudding nor taste bologna sausage—just starves himself, always goes to bed early and won't even drink a glass of beer, and to cap the climax he washes himself all over in warm water and soap each week. I wouldn't starve myself like that and forego my midnight banquet for ever on his health."

GOOD ADVICE.

We shall promise to prevent your wretched headache; your rheumatism, languid, dull feeling; your sleeplessness, your appetite and your desire for alcohol by providing you faithfully with the laws of your being. We propose to write a series of articles on hygiene, considering as we proceed, in their relation to health, air, light, drink, food, temperature, exercise, sleep, clothing, bathing, the excretions, the passions, longevity, etc.

I shall endeavor to show you how a healthy person should live to avoid sickness and premature death.

Let us now take up the subject of air. Air is an invisible, transparent, indomitable, elastic, ponderable, compressible fluid, which, under the form of the atmosphere, surrounds the earth to the height of fifteen or sixteen leagues.

"Air is essentially composed of two gases, oxygen and nitrogen, in the proportion of 20 of oxygen to 80 of nitrogen. Oxygen is the vital portion, but nitrogen is necessary to dilute it. Air also contains a small portion of carbonic acid gas, aqueous vapor, etc."—Dugdale.

GOOD AIR AND BREATHING.

In respiration the oxygen of the air is absorbed through the lungs by the materials of the blood. The mixture of the oxygen with the lymphatic fluid, which gives off the load of carbonic acid gas in exchange for the oxygen, which changes the venous blood into the varying arterial blood which is propelled by the heart to all parts of the system, imparting its life-giving qualities to all the tissues and returning as venous blood loaded with carbonic acid gas. Exhaled air, therefore, contains more carbonic acid gas and less oxygen than inspired air.

AIR AND RESPIRATION.

At those request Drs. Dardorff and Spofford made an autopsy, and found that the deceased had died from natural causes, and the jury returned a verdict accordingly.

At the inquest William Johnson of Centerville, the uncle of the deceased, testified that he was told last Sunday that his nephew was sick, and he thereupon called to see him. The young man said that he felt better, but the witness remained with him until 3 o'clock yesterday morning, about which time he died. The deceased was a native of California, 19 years old.

NO PULSE.

Dr. Dardorff testified: "I was called yesterday at half past 12 o'clock to see the deceased, and I found him very sick. He had no pulse in either wrist or in the arteries and I thought it was very strange to see a young man so locally failing in that condition. His heart was beating at the rate of 150 a minute, and it was weak. The man who called me said that the deceased was taken sick after having eaten a can of salmon, and that he believed that it had poisoned the deceased."

He should admit the pure air into your sleeping-rooms freely, and whenever possible remain out of doors, breathing fully and deeply. Our climate will do much to outlast life summer and winter, especially in the former. Purify your blood by practicing full and regular breathing of pure air.

In our next we will consider drink.

The running horse Odo, owned by the Orion brothers of Big Dry Creek, was sold last Saturday for $1000. It is said that a greater degree of speed was shown at the races at Visalia this week than had heretofore been made by the animal. The name of the expected buyer was not learned.

The first annual meeting of the San Joaquin Valley Veterans' Association, which was to have met in this city next Thursday, has been postponed, and the date not yet set.

The fees of the County Recorder's office for the month of September amounted to $957.00.

Tax Collector Ewing report having collected for licenses for the month of September $2000.00.

Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Is a popular medicine. It is carefully prepared from Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Mandrake, Dock, Pigeon-pea, Juniper Berries, and other well-known and valuable vegetable remedies, by a peculiar combination proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla aorative power not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures where other preparations fail.

PASADENA begins to show signs of returning life. It was assassinated by the boom three years ago.

CHICAGO continues to draw strength to her boom for the World's Fair. Now York may get left after all.

PRINCESTON fires have destroyed much valuable farm property in Dakota. Snow storms will soon put an end to the storm of fire.

CLARE has fixed city license on saloons at $100 a quarter. This does not include fare, percentage games or bird cage privileges.

PRESIDENT CANSU of France says that before he dies he intends to visit America. When he expects to go after that event has not been stated.

MARSHAL NEAGLE is visiting in Boston under the name of John Jones of New York. Neagle of California has acquired too much nobility to be pleasant.

MR. VINCENT of Port Townsend recently became a mother-in-law, and was so dissatisfied with that relation that she hanged herself. Instances of this kind are seldom indeed.

TWELVE Watsonville saloons have submitted to high license and closed their doors. And still the Watsonvillians need not go with cobwebs in their throats. There are three left.

Some trouble exists between the three railway companies of San Francisco and the people over T rails. If they would pave their streets in the metropolis like Fresno is now doing there would be no complaint about T rails.

The close vote in Montana was largely due to Mormon influences exerted in favor of Democratic success. Large numbers of Mormons live in the new state, and they are against the present administration to a man.

EVEN VITALIA shows evidences of an awakening from her slumbers. Her newspapers have taken up the subject of small farms, and are holding up pen pictures of Fresno to induce their sleepy population to go to work and become prosperous.

LONDON policemen are now compelled to wear noiseless boots. It is not the noise made by the policeman's hob-nailed shoes which interferes with his duty so much as his ability to see infractions of the law which are plainly visible to everybody else.

THE REPUBLICAN has been congratulated on all sides by its multitude of readers—the majority of the people of reading, reports of the year, the faces and the fates, and the future, and the attractive manner in which its premium list was presented.

An argument might be made in favor of irrigation by comparing the city of Visalia with the lists of Visalia and Reagan $950,000, while in the latter it runs up to over $6,700,000. Let us continue to irrigate.

ABOUT 1500 delegates are in attendance at the inter-state deep water convention now in session at Topeka, Kansas. The object of the convention is to secure government aid in the construction of a good harbor on the coast of Texas to facilitate shipment of western products to market.

This first question to be settled in the selection for a site for the World's Fair is whether that exhibition is intended to benefit the country at large or whether it is for the sole benefit of a limited area in the neighborhood of New York City. If left to a vote of the people, Chicago would be chosen by a clear majority over all rivals.

An Indian once took a feather, put it on a board and slept on it all night. In the morning he remarked: "White man say feather make soft bed. White man d— fool!" And so it is with the man who writes one or two articles for a newspaper, and then imagines he knows more about it than the man who owns and runs a newspaper as a regular business.

The low prices of wine for the past two years has resulted in one thing at least which will prove of benefit to the growers. The retail prices of wines have been generally reduced, which is causing an increased consumption. In other words, the reduction in price of California wines from 10 and 15 cents per glass to 6 cents is causing it to supplement to a considerable extent the higher priced and stronger liquors. The home market should be the most profitable market, and anything which tends to enlarge its capacity will result in advantage to those who supply it.

WATER piped into this city from the San Joaquin river would probably furnish immense power for manufacturing purposes, in addition to the amount needed for drinking and other domestic purposes. As an illustration of the tremendous power to be obtained from a small stream of water under great pressure, we can mention the Treadwell mine in Alaska. A three and one-third inch nozzle plays on a seven-foot wheel, with a pressure of 400 feet. Over 500-horse-power is developed, which is utilized to run 24 stamps, ninety-six contractors, twelve ore crushers and other machinery. Water power would soon make Fresno a great manufacturing center.

A GOOD MAN GONE.

This community was more than shocked by the death of J. H. Hamilton; it was touched with a sorrow which will abide in the hearts of many. Mr. Hamilton was a liberal-minded and kind-hearted man, who often held his own interests in second to that of his neighbors and friends. Such men are not so numerous that the taking off of one is not a serious loss. Mr. Hamilton left in Fresno many mousings to his generosity and usefulness as a citizen, and his memory will be revered and cherished.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

We have noticed recently considerable complaint on the part of wine men and lands Committee will report in favor of a law that will put an end to riparianism.

It has been demonstrated that a wheel of fortune is not essential to the success of the Internal Revenue department toward their industry, it being claimed that that department is exercising unusual diligence in searching after and prosecuting parties engaged in distilling spirits with which to fortify their wines, on which no revenue license had been paid. It is also claimed that the wine business cannot be conducted at a profit, in fact that it is a losing business where such license is required to be paid.

Notwithstanding the probable truth of all of those statements, and that it is to be regretted that the law is as it is, the position taken by the wine men and their friends is not only untenable, but ridiculous so, and will serve not to aid or assist them, but to defeat the object desired to be attained. The law imposes a certain internal revenue tax on all liquors distilled according to the spirituous strength. It is not contended that more tax is collected than is due, or that any unusual penalty is imposed, except any unusual (?) one of collecting all that is due. Crudest people might suppose, since all distillers are required to return under the exact (?) amount distilled, that this tax always had been paid in full. It seems to be admitted now that such has not been the case. The English of it seems to be that the wine men are complaining that the vigilance of the officers prevents them from safely violating the law. If this is not the gronni of your plaint, we would be glad to have some one explain just what the complaint is about.

The proper remedy is not to agitate for the privilege of being allowed to violate the law, but to repeat the law. In the earlier stages of our Government, notwithstanding the close straits the Government was often placed in for funds, only an insignificant portion of the revenue was raised by internal taxation.

As improvement association was organized at Napa this week, and several important enterprises are to be set on foot for the advancement of the town. Intelligent enterprise coupled with co-operation can accomplish great things.

The completed victory of Editor Hammon over the retarding of Modesto politicians should lead the News of that city up to the point of making an apology for the harsh manner in which it referred to this paper a week or so ago. The REPUBLICAN was all right.

IOWA Democrats herald high license as the grandest scheme yet devised for the amelioration of the human race. Those Iowa Democrats ought to withdraw from the national party, for they will have hard work to pull the party over on their side of the fence.

In the earlier stages of our Government, notwithstanding the close straits the Government was often placed in for funds, only an insignificant portion of the revenue was raised by internal taxation.

Our Secretary of State seems to be pretty well known to representatives of Central and South American countries at the Congress of American nations.

Everybody knows "Jim" Blaine, and his transcendent ability is the glory of his friends and the gall of his enemies.

OHIO, NEW YORK, IOWA, VIRGINIA, MARYLAND, MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA will hold state election this fall. The Cleveland party stands a pretty fair chance of winning in the last three.

In Iowa there are two Republicans running for Governor, a prohibitionist and a high license candidate. The Democrats have endorsed the latter.

The desertion of the Young Men's Democratic club of Baltimore to the Democratic party may have an important effect upon the campaign. Maryland and Virginia are the only states where the internal revenue tax is not yet enacted.

THE AMERICAN exhibit at the Paris exposition was a source of humiliation to hundreds of well-informed citizens of this country who attended the fair, because of its meanness.

The national debt is being reduced with the old-time rapidity and regularity that prevailed during the last twelve years.

REPUBLICAN rule previous to the opening of administration is the most favorable to the public welfare.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE TAX is a tax, and is a penalty pure and simple, without any corresponding benefit, in fact, without any benefit at all except for revenue purposes.

The reason or excuse for retaining this tax upon liquors and tobacco is that they are rated not only as luxuries, but also to a certain extent detrimental to public health and morals. There can now be no other possible reason for maintaining this tax.

AS A PARTY

the Democratic party has always prided itself on its uncompromising opposition to all sumptuary legislation, so-called, and insisted on the individual as to what he should eat, drink and wear. Another one of the cardinal doctrines of that party is that governmental power, should be used to effect the removal of luxury and vice from society.

The report that prevailed yesterday that "Cactus Ed" had been killed in a quarrel in Eastern Oregon has not been corroborated.

The pipe-organ presented to the Presbyterian church by the late J. H. Hamilton, has been draped in black by the ladies of the church.

W. D. Johnston, manager in the dry goods department of Louis Einstein & Co., will leave on this morning's train for San Francisco on a short business trip.

Mrs. George Hoxie and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Farmer, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Farmer during the fair, returned to Tulare City last evening. Mrs. Hoxie is a sister of Mrs. W. H. Farmer.

Miss Jessie Johnston of Half Moon Bay, San Mateo county, and a daughter to the Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Good Templars, is visiting Mrs. John Johnston. Miss Johnston is a niece of Mrs. Johnston.

To-morrow morning men and teams will be put to work paving and scraping a street, from Tulare to Mariposa street, preparatory to connecting the paving. The company which is now doing the street paving are moving along much more rapidly within the past week or two than any time previous.

A Pleased Visitor.

Mr. John Jay of San Jose was in Fresno this week attending the fair and looking at the country. Mr. Jay is delighted with everything he has seen, and says that, everything considered, it was a more successful exhibition than the State Fair, and literally eclipses any district fair that he ever sees. Up in San Jose they tell people that Fresno has a marvelous climate and that the people are morally unhealthy, and he was therefore greatly surprised to see only robust, healthy men and women, young, rosy-cheeked children among the great crowds which have been in town during the week. When he goes home he will enlighten those San Jose people.

Confesses to a Thief.

Yesterday afternoon a 12-year-old colored boy named Pompey Hill was arrested by Deputy Constables Doolittle and Hance on a charge of stealing a rifle and knife from his tent at the State Fair last Wednesday. When he was brought up before Justice Wolcott yesterday he confessed to the theft, and was lodged in jail pending his appearance for trial, the date of which was not set.

John Williams, Joseph Hawling and William Foster, who were arrested several weeks ago on suspicion of having some connection with the stealer, will now undoubtedly be released. The lad will go away from his home in Texas some months ago.

In the Courts.

Before Justice Wolcott yesterday Otto Williams, arrested for striking S. J. Henders in the head with a pitchfork at the race track several days ago, was fined $25, which he paid.

Thomas O'Connor, E. Edwards, Thomas Foster and William O'Brien, charged with vagrancy, were sentenced to twenty days each in jail by Justice Hume.

M. J. Garman, who was also charged with vagrancy, was given fifteen days.

James Butler and H. Jones, drunks, were sentenced to five days in jail by Recorder Prince.

The Man Who Yelled Murder!

The man who was judged in jail last Friday night by Deputy Constable Wolford for following a woman from the Hughes Hotel to the New York Bakery gave his name as Maria Lettieri when brought before Justice Wolcott yesterday. He says that he is not guilty of the charge. He swore to a complaint charging Charles Shunk and wife, his best friend. He is now in jail, having not having been set for trial. Mr. and Mrs. Shunk gave $50 bonds for their appearance when wanted.

Caught in a Trench.

Jacob Partin, who is an Armenian, employed by C. D. V. Agent, the sewer contractor, was working in a trench on rear of the 1st street Improvement Company's hotel, on the corner of Merced and 1st streets, yesterday morning, when the banks of several yards distanced in, nearly covering the Armenian. In the dangerous position in which Partin was had been placed, and rushed to his rescue. He was taken out and a physician summoned, but no bones broken.

Who Was Cain's Wife?

A Residence Burglarized.

During the temporary absence of Mr. and Mrs. Messing from their residence on North 1st street, at 5 o'clock last evening, a thief entered the house and stole from a safebox and a bureau, claiming a value of $200. The thief was deliberate enough to find time to exchange shoes with Mr. Messing, leaving his old pair on the rear steps.

For Diseases of Horses.

There is nothing that compares with Cole's Veterinary Arbolescence. It cures Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Sores, Soreness, Thrush, Inflammations and all skin and hoof diseases, weaker than any other remedy. It is the only preparation that will invariably renew the hair to its original color. Edwin D. Ritter, owner of the Fresno Soc., says: "Having tried a thorough course of Cole's Veterinary Arbolescence it takes pleasure it to all owners of horses as the best remedy." THE WIND UP.

Two Funny Races That Took Place Yesterday.

MANZANITA BEATS ASA EASILY.

A Complaint That ASA was Pulled Back to Cheat Bettors in the Pools.

From the Daily of Sunday.

It is over. Those who were fortunate enough to have been enriched by the races are happy, and those who by their lack of knowledge of turf methods and events, nixed to line the pockets of their fellow, are congratulating themselves that it was no more.

The price hawks are kicking their toes in glee because they are the most people, and the directors are happy because the receipts this year have been the largest ever taken in on a like occasion.

The REPUBLICAN is also happy because it contributed its mite toward making Fresno's Third Annual Fair one of the most successful events ever held in the state.

The attendance yesterday was not as large as it had been the preceding days.

This was probably due to the fact that the Fair really closed Friday, yesterday being a special day.

THE MONEY FAIR.

There was an additional "bird cage" keo game on the ground which suited a small fortune to its manipulators, all of whom think that Fresno is the greatest town on earth.

THE DAY'S EVENTS.

There was a large delegation of ladies at the track, all of them taking a great interest in the several events.

Some of the fair ones won enough during the week to keep them in bon bons and gloves until next year.

The day opened with the continuation of the special pacing race for $2500 purse.

Two heats had been run the day before.

The pools closing at $25 to $5 in favor of Dot, who won the first heat, were never wild and almost unreasonable odds, but with low takers. There was to be a panic in the camp of the odd men, and they wisely refrained from getting more deeply involved.

The result was that there was no betting in the next two heats, both won by the favorite, the fourth in 2:25 and the last in 2:21½. When the sign of completeness was in the hands of the bookmakers, lead, the sign of completeness, the Fair was probably suggested itself to the wagers of the small sums against the favorite, who were soon dispelled, the favorite having heat and race by about four lengths.

EDWARD TEMPLE'S VICTORY.

Don Tomas, E. B. Gifford's boy gelding, carried the San Diego colts in the one mile best three in five, of the 2:23 class.

Enma Temple, the Kankoo pride of H. J. Agnew of Honolulu, was the third in the same race.

The star of the show was Sir Stanley, best cow ever.

Twenty-eighth Grand Duke of Gloucester, second best bull.

Viscountess LV, best cow any age.

Sir Stanley and three calves, best bull.

Lady Con (Hercord), best heifer calf, showing against Herefords.

SWINESTAKES.

Editor Hanscom Vindicated and the Ring Demoralized.

Yesterday afternoon the long and hotly-contested trial of S. L. Hanscom, editor of the Modesto Herald, for libel was concluded and the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal. Mr. Hanscom's enemies are thoroughly demoralized. It was shown in the evidence that an election board had staled the ballot box, and the one member of the board which remained in the county has skipped.

Keading, the party who resented it, I. L. Granger of this city, is thought will also leave the county before the convening of the next Grand Jury.

Another member of the news media and a partner of Keading in the notorious matter of expelling the county books has been convicted of assault with a deadly weapon and will be sentenced to-day.

Dr. B. H. the man who recently shot at Dr. Hanscom, is now on trial. Editor Hanscom is doing royal work in breaking up one of the most corrupt political rings (outside of the most corrupt) that has ever disgraced the state. Honest Democrats as well as Republicans are rejoicing over the result.

The Pavilion Exhibits.

Among the special features of interest at the pavilion was the exhibit of R. L. Young, architect of this city, comprising a number of mounted designs in India ink, eight water colors and a large number of working plans.

Mr. Young received

First premium on design for his church.

First premium on design for his railroad depot.

First premium on design for his cottage, for the residence of Mr. Daniels of this city.

First premium on design for best farmhouse awarded to designs of J. H. Brown's residence in Washington Colony. (This exhibit included designs for four school buildings, comprising those for the Pavillion Exhibits.)

Twenty-six cars loaded with Fresno raisins will be shipped East from this city to-night.

GOOD TEMPLARS.

Opening of the Grand Lodge Session.

THE OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS.

A History of That Grand Monument of Charity, the Orphans' Home.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars will convene at 10 o'clock this morning in Riggs Theater. The program will be as follows:

Confering the Grand Lodge degree on the delegates.

Admission of delegates and opening in the District degree.

Annual reports of executive officers and distribution of the reports. This will probably take up all the afternoon.

In the evening there will be no session of the Grand Lodge, but the delegates will partake of the hospitalities of their Fresno brethren at Riggs' Theater in the shape of an entertainment and refreshments. None but Good Templars will be admitted in the evening, as the building will not be able to comfortably accommodate more than 600 people, and the Good Templars visiting and residing will about make up the quota.

AN INDUSTRIAL OFFICER.

Grand Secretary George B. Katzenstein, who is stopping at The Hughes Hotel, is one of the most hardworking men in the order. He remained up until 2 o'clock this morning arranging details of the convention. Good Templars Home For Orphans.

In a previous article in these columns containing a resume of the principles and aims of the Independent Order of Good Templars, the statement was made that the order had "stood side by side with every benevolent purpose, worked hand in hand with every charitable object and marched shoulder to shoulder with every philanthropic movement."

We have pleasure in presenting to our readers of the Good Templars' Home for Orphans, which comes with itself all the elements of beneficence, is not a rouge, asylum or home for the orphaned children of the Good Templar fraternity, as some may imagine, but the Good Templars' Home for Orphans. Its title is not meant to convey any idea of exclusiveness, as to the class admitted to its sheltering offshoots.

George B. Katzenstein of Sacramento is the official Secretary of the Grand Lodge, which responsible position he has occupied for twenty years. He will be pleasantly remembered on the occasion of a former visit to this city, in April last, as a delegate to the Grand Lodge Knights of Columbus.

Henry J. Gilchrist, of Santa Cruz, a man of rare gaiety, comes up with the Grand Lodge in 1890.

Mrs. M. M. Carpenter, who, for many years has been the Secretary of the Board of Lady Managers of the Good Templars' Home for the past three years, has been a member of the family since she was a girl, and a four-year-old schoolhouse was erected, and is located a graded school containing the class admitted to the Grand Lodge Knights of Columbus.

Children 14 years of age are received, carded for and educated, and two half-breed children is the average number entertained by it. Since its inception, it has provided for the maintenance of the school, the payment of the teacher, and the payment of the expenses of the school, and the cost of the building, and the cost of the maintenance of the building.
